Select “Nominate a horse” then “Next”.

The screenshot shows the NRHA website's 'Forms' section. At the top, there are four steps: 1. Form, 2. Horse, 3. Information, and 4. Complete. The 'Forms' section contains the text: 'Please select a form application. Multiple form applications can be chosen at once.' There are two radio button options: 'Create Competition License' (unselected) and 'Nominate a horse' (selected). A 'Next' button is visible at the bottom right of the form area.

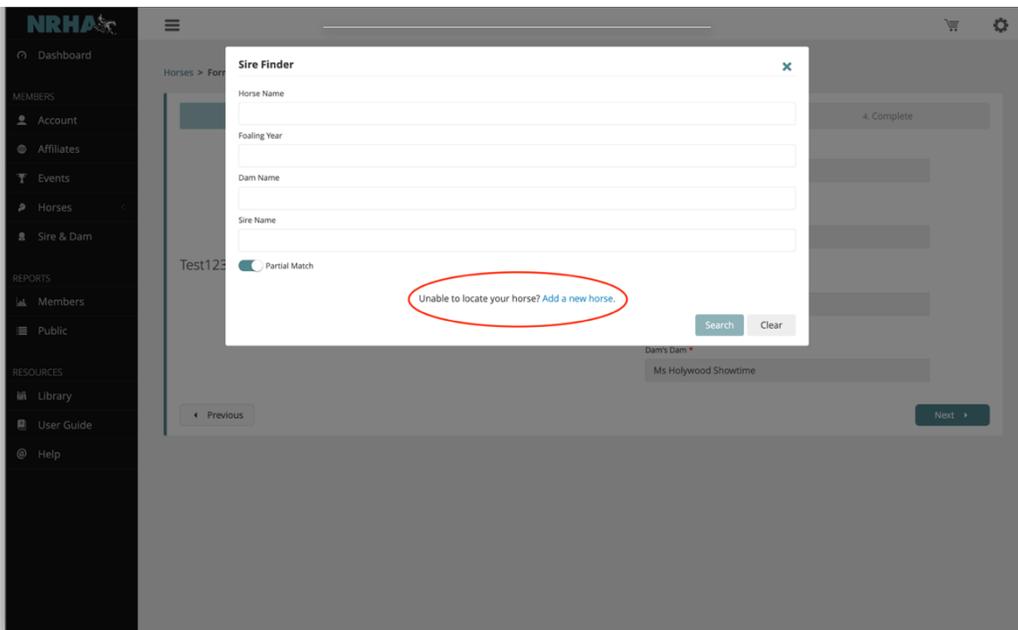

Select the box to enter the registration papers at a later time. This will put the horse’s name as pending and will allow you to complete the nomination without adding the registration information. Select the sex, foaling date, and country foaled. Click “Next”.

The screenshot shows the 'New Horse Information' section of the NRHA Forms page. A red circle highlights a checkbox with the text: 'If you do not have registration papers yet, check here to enter registration papers at a later time.' Below this, there are four input fields: 'Horse Name' (text input), 'Sex' (dropdown menu), 'Foal Date' (date input with a calendar icon), and 'Country Foaled' (dropdown menu). A 'Next' button is located at the bottom right of the form area.

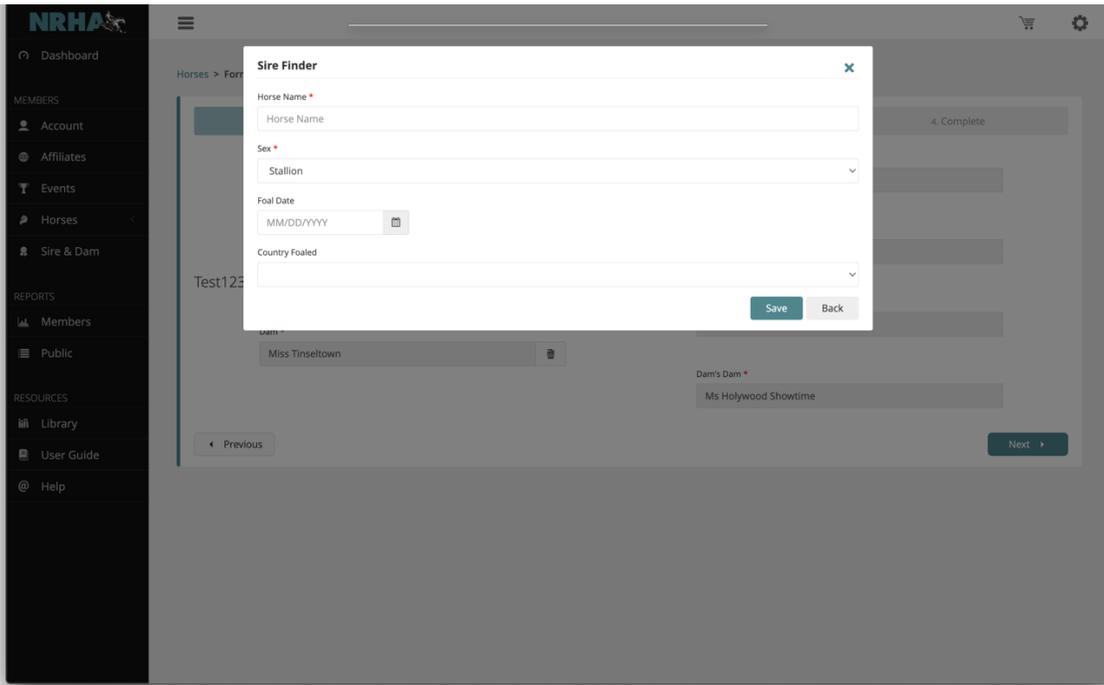

When entering the sire and dam information, type in the horse's name and click on the magnifying glass on each search box. If the horse is in our system, the pedigree information automatically will populate. If it does not find the horse, there will be an additional search page that will appear.

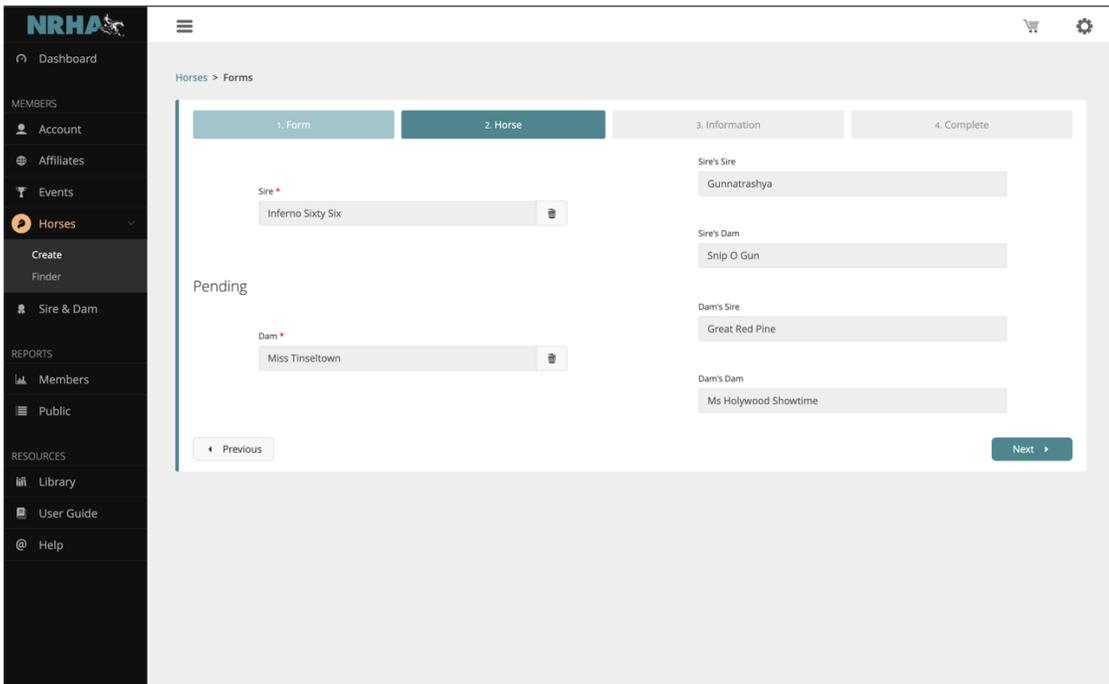

PRO TIP: If the sire is a well-known reining sire, and it does not appear when your search, be sure you have the correct spelling and spacing and add any additional information in the search fields, then click search. If the horse is still not found, we do not have it in the system. Also, please note Colonels Smoking Gun is known as “Gunner” in the NRHA system. At this point click “Add A New Horse”.

Type in the horse's name and click "Save".

Repeat this process until the pedigree is complete. Click "Next".

Select the desired nomination (and option if applicable) and type in the nominator's name or member number in the Nominated By box and click the magnifying glass. Click "Next".
